

A photograph of the Church of St. Laurentius in Rudersdorf, Germany. The church is a Gothic Revival style building made of dark stone with a grey slate roof. It features a prominent square tower on the right side with a tall, slender spire topped by a golden cross. The main body of the church has several tall, narrow Gothic windows. The church is set against a backdrop of lush green trees and a cloudy sky. A wind turbine is visible in the distance on the right. A semi-transparent white box with black text is overlaid on the left side of the image, and a red banner with white text is at the bottom.

100 Jahre Kirchweihe
St. Laurentius Rudersdorf

3.Okt. 2021 - 10:45Uhr
Festgottesdienst

anschl. Fröhschoppen am Kirchplatz

Es gilt die 3G-Regel!